foal out of the high-class Alasi, from the first crop, since his relocation to Yorton Farm, of Gentlewave (No 43).

Last year's Supreme Champion was a son of Great Pretender out of the five-time winner and Gr.3-placed Bold Fire (Bold Edge), who was owned by Steven Hadley and Richard and Sally Aston of Goldford Stud. The colt was sold earlier this year for £20,000 at the DBS January National Hunt Sale to Richard Frisby.

IRELAND

EUROPEAN FARRIERS RECEIVE HANDS-ON EXPERIENCE

Twenty-two farriers from seven European countries attended a seminar delivered on Thursday by the Irish School of Farriery in Kildare Town, County Kildare. Organised by the European and Mediterranean Horseracing Federation (EMHF), delegates from Czech Republic, Germany, Sweden, Turkey, Slovakia, Denmark and Ireland were treated to a day's tuition, part-classroom, part-practical from two of the most senior practitioners and instructors in Ireland, Alwyn McKeown AWCF and Brian Dunne Dip WCF, IMFA.

The morning classroom session covered a wide range of subjects including: shoeing a racehorse and shoeing techniques, types of horseshoes, shoeing for various track surfaces, modern products, trimming the racehorse; common types of hoof conditions/injuries including tendon, ligament injuries, cracks and interference injuries. The regulations and rules for the shoeing of thoroughbreds for racing were also discussed.

The afternoon session featured a practical clinic, including trimming and shoeing demonstrations, with participants using the opportunity to gain hands-on guidance.

Dr Paull Khan, EMHF Secretary-General, explained: "The EMHF organises seminars every year on all aspects of racing administration. Those member countries with the largest-scale racing industries provide the training, with a view to raising standards across the region."

Farriers from across Europe descended on Kildare for the EMHF seminar at the Irish School of Farriery
